Amjad is a co-founder and former managing partner of Afridi & Angell. He advises on both conventional and Shari'a compliant transactions.

Amjad has also been involved in several project finance transactions and in the setting up of industrial projects in the UAE. He was involved in a transaction for the construction of a shopping mall which was one of the first syndicated project finance transactions after the 2008 financial crisis. He was also involved in a transaction involving the construction of oil storage tanks.

He also advises private equity firms and investors on UAE and cross border transactions and acquisitions. His recent transactions involve sale and purchase of hotels, restaurants and setting up of entertainment and leisure facilities.

Amjad is an active speaker at conferences and seminars, and authors several specialised works by various publishers including Law Business Research and Thomson Reuters. He was on the Board of Directors of Lex Mundi, the world's leading network of independent law firms.
